- a) Genesis 1 — Theophany lessons given to Adam, by Eden-author-God.
 Genesis 18 is a like theophany — the three of sovereignty appear to Abraham as individuals.
 However, as spirit-God-creator, Moses specifically knows no man can see God and live.
 Lo, Eden-author-God, speaks of spirit-God-creator using the third person!
- b) Genesis 1 by Eden-author-God, is by-definition Great Literature !
 Is it nothing to you that God's words are the greatest ever known?

 Be certain of the context that has precisely produced every line — Intelligent Design God stands behind his designs, which are the measure of his elegance — Romans 1:20 ...
 He is the gardener who set apart the Greater Eden Reservation for Adam. Genesis 3:23-24.
- d) Theology and science are consistent — just as mathematical as (2 + 2 = 4).
EARTH IS mankind-centre ... God's Genesis 1 focus is here ... Scripture is given here ...
 Satan is cast down here ... God's only Son came down here ... we make commitment here ...
 Satan's END is HERE ... ingratitude comes to an end here ... God will RENEW all things as in EDEN.
 Seamless rationale ... Scripture does interpret Scripture ... Sola - Scriptura - ING is sure.
- e) Lucifer is guilty of the first dichotomy ever — God vs. proud self-will .
 So. Satan is used by God to model evil, the opposite of "Good," Craig Brown 2007;
 But, Satan is directly held to specific limits by God. Job 1:12, 2:6
 Adam and Eve actually did as Lucifer — Lo, the fatal reign of free-will proud self-will .
 Alas, "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him, should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16
 We still counter God: "Yes. But ... " or, even counter God by sleep-walking ... Lewis.

Now into Genesis 1 , KJV Chapter 1 only — first see four preliminary steps specific to FORMAT.
 The text at Mt. Sinai has internal literary format, and formal FORMAT supports meaning.
 These steps are strictly one-issue each — with no issue of word meanings for now.
 Genesis 1 stature is by definition Great Literature.

MATH-LIKE PREFACE to the PREFACE — Genesis 1

Lines add up like (2 + 2 = 4). This MATH-LIKE PREFACE is a would-be hundred page thesis.

- a) The Pentateuch was revealed to Moses at Mt. Sinai, producing hard copy Hebrew, c.1450 BC.
No original documents remain, however, meticulous care has produced our copies today.
Now Dr. Moses, of the House of Pharaoh, was graduate of all that was Egypt, even writing.
- b) We have in Genesis 1, the Author's 31-verse OUTLINE of Creation, as revealed to Moses.
- c) This OUTLINE is actually the Author's ABSTRACT of the tutorial Theophany to Adam, as in the pre-Fall CONTEXT of Eden.
The six days in Eden were a major tutorial production specifically for Adam.
- d) Adam was taught via an original Show & Tell, aided by visuals of the antecedents to the eight creative commands.
The subjects in Eden-Genesis 1, are mere introductions to the topics of the daily Theophany lessons to Adam.
The Sabbath has never been absent.
- e) You will learn that every word of the Author is carefully measured, selected, for this specific CONTEXT of Eden.
These ABSTRACTS are brief — and are to be subsequently built upon in Scripture.
- f) Jonathan Edwards : "know the difference between" CONTEXT of Eden, and CONTEXT of today's Universe.
Actually: "If you do not know the difference between . . . you do not deserve to enter into the discussion."
- g) Note Scientific Revolution c.1600 AD, in the CONTEXT of the Universe, but not one word of Genesis 1 is rescinded.
Extended but not rescinded — "be light seen" and "be lights seen".
- h) God created kinds; kind is used eleven times in 31 verses; kind is made a technical term; no "transition" kinds !
This is a major issue today, especially since Darwin 1859 declared independence of a Creator.
Since his concept of "gradual survival of the fittest for species" has not panned out;
the 1900s silently adopted "good mutations for species" at 1 in 10,000,000,000.
Poor odds! That is not the tenacity of mathematical science.
- i) Jonathan Edwards : "know the difference between" MICRO evolution, and MACRO "evolution."
Sure, Intelligent Design includes that environment produce facility to survive, BUT, not to produce species!
- j) "Higher criticism" of Genesis 1 is sham fabrication, a self-satisfaction counter by those given over to proud self-will .
- k) We well recognize Sovereignty as indeed unique to Scripture. This is a big step, beclouded by Screwtape half-truth counter-plants into the minds of proud mankind. (1942, The Screwtape Letters by C. S. Lewis) Genesis 1 is Supreme Sovereignty — and our proud counter "Yes, But . . ." only echoes Screwtape.
- l) Now for additional reality: We have been comfortable all along with the Bible presenting Genesis 1 in a rectangular space of words — be they sentences, or clauses. Beware, we are not yet to be comfortable that we comprehend all that the Author has seeded for us in Genesis 1. The thought density of these words is high, being an abstract of tutorial Theophany.
- m) Now sentences are not an innovation of modern language. The Author in Hebrew provides his "waw-consecutive" for our help with thought packages ("and-consecutive" as contrasted to "and-conjunctive"). Provisionally, the modern verse numbers in Genesis 1, do indeed respect the "and-consecutives" — pertinent in NASB 1960.
Such individualized word packages of thought are significant to rational thought.

Step 1 , All this being the case, it is of utmost logic that the lines of Genesis 1 be left-justified, to reveal the Author's internal format focus. See Step 1, pp. 15-16. (OUTLINE, in eight paragraphs)

Step 2 , Phrase Pattern Charts come next. We are surprised upon finding the change-of-focus in each paragraph immediately following the command completion with "And there was light. etc." Recapitulation follows this, introducing more information to Adam, in which nothing new is created, but "that it was good." This does introduce the idiom pattern of EPILOGUE, face-to-face with Adam in Theophany, in Eden Reservation. Note EPILOGUE is to be seen here as ancient, contributed by the Author-Creator. See Step 2, pp. 17-18.

Step 3 , By this time you will have noticed that some pattern-phrases are out of place. This is no blemish to inspiration. All obviously are phrases displaced (delayed) in hand-copying, some even dating back before the Septuagint translation. Provisionally, this results in our being able to put back each delayed phrase. And such reconstruction can hardly be expected any other way than by this providential insurance pattern. See Step 3, pp. 19-20.

Step 4 , Now amazingly, William Whiston 1696 worked through the dichotomy at verse 1:16, where he then by a pluperfect connects well with day and night of twelve verses prior. See Step 4, pp. 21-22.

- Such addition is the same case already with the verb in "That it was good." Wm Tyndale 1534, first used the verb "it was." Italics was added in the KJV, to mean the verb is not expressly present in the Hebrew. Mark these as precedent.
- Know that the pluperfect "had" is already found three times in 2:2 - 3 — unknown who deserves credit.
- Wm Tyndale of Oxford and also of Cambridge, was earliest to translate directly into English. After the Greek NT, he learned Hebrew from Jewish associates. He states "The properties of the Hebrew tongue agreeth a thousand times more with English, than with Latin. . . . it into English word for word . . ." (The English Bible 1876 Vol. I p. 210 John Eadie) Wm Whiston stood on Tyndale-1534-shoulders, which at 162 years maturity, revealed the obvious providential open-door awaiting the pluperfect of Greek, for the Hebrew at Genesis 1:16.
- Discouraging, Whiston published his "pluperfect" analysis 300 years ago; and did not live to see this pluperfect in an English Genesis 1 — there is one at 1:16 published 1938. James Murphy further used the pluperfect. (Commentary on Genesis 1847)
- Do not overlook Whiston being qualified as an Anglican priest, in order to then qualify as professor at Cambridge. He taught under, (and was successor to), Isaac Newton in the Lucasian Chair of Mathematics !

So it becomes obvious that these four steps are to be taken as matters of Format, even before (and enabling) the consideration of what the Author has said in the Hebrew text. It is futile today to explore the meaning of the text until having established this unified elegant package of text. The matter of text summation is set aside to come in March.

As one steps back to get an overall view of these four steps of reality, it becomes obvious that providentially these items make little impact on theological issues. The major benefit is for us today. We are to realize we now are equipt to speak carefully in-style to the secular world today:

"This is the word of God." We have never before been so clear.

Now read all the fine print:

In real-estate, all is Location, Location, Location. In Genesis 1, all is Format, Format, Format.

- a) Genesis 1 will be presented on two facing pages: 8½ by 11
- b) The font type is compressed : Myriad Pro Condensed. This is at the limit. "Z" height is right.
- c) The font size is the largest that the two-page space allows : 11 pt.
- d) Square 'bullets' set-off the outline items.
- e) Margin Notes are limited to the right-margin : 9 pt.
- f) This high-lights the Scriptural text, as if for court.
- g) At first appearance, Genesis 1 may look like poetry — look again !
- h) There is no rhyme or meter in the Hebrew of Genesis 1 . Take that to court.
- i) There absolutely is no poetic licence in the meanings of Genesis 1 .
- j) Lo, no Santa Claus fabrication in Genesis 1 to be overlooked, after the Scientific Revolution.
- k) If English idiom and Hard Science do not agree, do we understand the Author-Creator ?
- l) Verse 1:27 is "parallelism" like the Psalms, plainly insisting that the rest of Genesis 1 is "patterned-prose."
- m) Specific "patterned-prose" ends at with verse 31 of Genesis 1 ; while 2:1-4a concludes Genesis 1 .
- n) 2:4b immediately begins enlargement spared Adam in the Theophany of Eden. Enlargement is for US.
- o) WordPerfect, with adaptations to accommodate P D F — two space-bars max with font of Myriad Pro Cond.

Step 1 :

Genesis 1 KJV* — Introduce Format — Left Justify Phrases, Clarendon Spelling 1769

- 1 In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.
- 2 And the earth was without form, and void;
and darkness was upon the face of the deep.
And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.
- 3 ¶ And God said, Let there be light:
and there was light. eight commands fulfilled thus
- 4 And God saw the light, that it was good:
and God divided between the light and between the darkness.
- 5 And God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night.
And the evening and the morning were the first day. six days to the Sabbath
- 6 ¶ And God said, Let there be a firmament in the midst of the waters, KJV 1611 margin "Hebr. Expansion" and let it divide the waters from the waters.
- 7 And God made the firmament, and divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above the firmament;
and it was so. -----
- 8 And God called the firmament, Heaven.
And the evening and the morning were the second day.
- 9 ¶ And God said, Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear:
and it was so. -----
- 10 And God called the dry land, Earth;
and the gathering together of the waters called he Seas:
and God saw that it was good.
- 11 ¶ And God said, Let the earth bring forth grass, and the herb yielding seed, and the fruit tree, yielding fruit after his kind, whose seed is in itself, upon the earth:
and it was so. -----
- 12 And the earth brought forth grass, and herb yielding seed after his kind, and the tree yielding fruit, whose seed was in itself, after his kind:
and God saw that it was good.
- 13 And the evening and the morning were the third day.
- 14 ¶ And God said, Let there be lights in the firmament of the heaven, to divide the day from the night:
and let them be for signs and for seasons, and for days and years:
- 15 And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven, to give light upon the earth:
and it was so. -----
- 16 And God made two great lights:
the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night:
he made the stars also.
- 17 And God set them in the firmament of the heaven, to give light upon the earth:
- 18 And to rule over the day, and over the night,
and to divide the light from the darkness:
and God saw that it was good.
- 19 And the evening and the morning were the fourth day.

* The focus of the left-justification is thought packages. The Author-Creator is partial to problem solvers. In Genesis 1 , his first puzzle is the "verbless clause-of-being." (is, was, are) This is language idiom, that is not primarily essential, being omitted in the Context of Eden, the Author sparing Adam of detail. Historically, we have found most of the direct examples, as having been solved by supplying the verb in italics to indicate its not being in the original Hebrew. Note the statements of "Good." This early example is vital, because such will be faced again in Step 4 , which was initially solved 1696, early in the Scientific Revolution, and nobody was listening, nor is listening today, after 300 years. The Context of Genesis 1 is Eden.

Step 1 :

- 20 ¶ And God said, Let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life, and fowl that may fly above the earth in the open firmament of heaven.
- 21 And God created great whales, and every living creature that moveth, which the waters brought forth abundantly after their kind, and every winged fowl after his kind:
and God saw that it was good.
- 22 And God blessed them, saying Be fruitful, multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let fowl multiply in the earth.
- 23 And the evening and the morning were the fifth day.
- 24 ¶ And God said, Let the earth bring forth the living creature after his kind, cattle, and creeping thing,
and beast of the earth after his kind:
and it was so. -----
- 25 And God made the beast of the earth after his kind, and cattle after their kind,
and every thing that creepeth upon the earth, after his kind:
and God saw that it was good.
- 26 ¶ And God said, Let us make man in our Image, after our likeness:
and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth on the earth.
- 27 So God created man in his own Image, parallelism-poetry in the image of God created he him;
male and female created he them.
- 28 And God blessed them, and God said unto them,
Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it, and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.
- 29 And God said, Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed;
to you it shall be for meat:
- 30 And to every beast of the earth, and to every fowl of the air, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is life,
I have given every green herb for meat:
and it was so. -----
- 31 And God saw everything that he had made, and, behold, it was very good.
And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.
- 2:1 Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them.
- 2 And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made.
and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made.
- 3 And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it:
because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made.
- 4a These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created.

* The Author's accent on Theophany is majestic in Eden to Adam :

- a) Genesis 1 is not a "burning bush" revelation, which to Moses was prophetic.
- b) It is not a "vision" instruction, to Abraham about offering Isaac, which was prophetic.
- c) It is a literal Theophany, as modeled to Abraham in a real-life demonstration, and he feasted them . (Genesis 18)
- d) Notice the Author uses the third-person in revealing the Creator to Adam in Eden.

Step 2 :

20 ¶	□ And God said, Let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life, □ and fowl that may fly above the earth in the open firmament of heaven.	creation 6
21	□ And God created great whales, and every living creature that moveth, which the waters brought fourth abundantly, after their kind, and every winged fowl after his kind. □ And God saw that it was good.	epilogue 6

25	□ And God made the beast of the earth after its kind, and cattle after their kind, and every thing that creepeth upon the earth after its kind. □ And God saw that it was good.	epilogue 7
26 ¶	□ And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: □ and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every thing that creepeth upon the land.	creation 8
27	□ So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he them; male and female created he them.	epilogue 8
28	□ And God blessed them, and God said unto them: Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it; and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.
29	□ And God said: Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat;
30	□ and to every beast of the earth, and to every fowl of the air, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is life, I have given every green herb for meat. □ And it was so.
31	□ And God saw every thing that he had made, and, Behold, it was very good. □ And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.	end day 6
2:1	Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them.
2	And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made. and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made.
3	And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made.
4a	These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created.

e) At the climax of Creation, mankind, majestically, the Author switches to the first-person with "Let us . . ."

f) The Hebrew word for "man" is from the Hebrew word for "ground", and sets the stage of reality.

g) The aspect of Theophany, gives new light to the EPILOGUES to Adam in Eden.

h) This accents the emphasis of Theophany-Days, leading to the very first Sabbath.

i) Adam and his progeny never really forgot the Sabbath.

j) The work-week was further documented two millennia later, in the Babylon creation epic, Enuma elish . Heidel.

k) If you do not understand the difference between the History and the Epilogue . . .

Exodus 20:11 (Lo, Mt. Sinai Hebrew, needs Whiston's "Pluperfect-Yet-To-Be.")

Introduction to Phrase Pattern In Genesis 1

Harold G. Stigers, 1976, wrote in his A Commentary On Genesis , "the structure of this section is a problem in that it approaches poetic levels of composition, it cannot be cast into a poetic form such as we find in the poetic sections of the Old Testament. Parallelism, which so evidently a characteristic of Hebrew poetry, is lacking here and cannot be extracted from the words present" . . . [except locally, 1:27 serves the Author as his tutorial model of parallelism to be contrasted with patterned prose, the basic text of Genesis 1.]

Stigers finds five repeating elements in the paragraphs but notes that Anton Diemel identifies seven.

1. The introductory word: "And God said . . ."
2. The fiat: "Let there be . . ."
3. The Fulfillment: "And there was / And it was so."
4. The evaluation: "And God saw that it was good."
5. The terminus: "And there was evening and there was morning . . ."

Now this matter of pattern turns out to be a perceptive issue, and had Stigers been writing only a book on Genesis 1 , instead of the whole Book of Genesis, he obviously would have developed the next stage beyond just these lists of elements or phrases. It is already recognized that judicious pattern is an element of tutorial literature, so his next move would have been a chart of the eight creation stages showing the distribution of the phrase pattern that characterize Genesis 1 . And that would reveal more about the literature of Genesis1 than the world has seen to this day.

Here is the 'would-be' Stigers pattern-chart on the opposite page, Stigers Phrase Pattern Chart A. It has ten elements.

Trail Guide produced by the Stigers Pattern Chart :

It does not take much reflection to notice a transition in each of the creation paragraphs. The lead-off half is a plain historical recount of a creation, terminated by an "And it was so." Those are the halves we remember best. Watch ! Each EPILOGUE is current to Adam, who was last in creation.

The second half of each stage is the surprise. These are theophanies in which the Author gives directions to Adam that are specific for his early hearers, for the purpose of appreciating the Sovereignty of God, significant in the context of the creation portion. They represent instruction in contrast to the show-and-tell items.

Genesis 1 is a unit of literature by the Author, but we have done little to give the KJV a look of precise prose of great literature.

At this point we will make initial steps to remedy that by issues of style; while making no word exchanges regarding the Hebrew.

- a) The recount lines of the creation works, will be bolded, to stand out to strike the eye first:
- b) The lines recounting instruction, will be set off to the right to identify them as specifically different in themselves.
- c) The day-lines will be further significantly indented that we see them separately.
- d) The spaces between paragraphs will indicate the grouping of the eight paragraphs so as to give the six representative "works days" focusing on the tutorial of the Sabbath.

• epilogue = 1.a "A short poem or speech spoken directly to the audience at the end of a play."

American Heritage College Dictionary, Third Edition 2000

• EPILOGUE = the Author has just ended a recount of a historical creation with the words "And it was so."

Now he speaks directly to Adam of information Adam needs. This is the Author's pattern for the eight paragraphs of Genesis 1. There is nothing created in the EPILOGUES.

11—	20b	"and Let the earth bring forth fowl that may fly in . . ."	at 20b	delayed in 1:20b	KJV	CDV	DSS	LXX
		and	fowl that may	fly	above the earth	in	the open	firmament of	heaven	KJV 1769

		and let	birds	fly	above the earth	across	the	expans-	of the	sky	NIV 1978 and Let the earth bring forth	fowl that may	fly	above	in	the open	expans-	of the	sky	KJV 2011

Birds are not to be a sub-set of fish.

- Provisionally, the Author has employed the distinctive pattern in Genesis 1 as pedagogical innovation, which also surprisingly allows obvious restoration of any delayed-phrases that have occurred in the past. QUESTION: How can the Author have put "And it was so." at the end of verse 7 ? (2 + 2 = 4)

As Jonathan Edwards initiates —

"If you do not know the difference between; " a) adjusting what the Author SAID, and, b) putting back what the Author SAID, . . .

- The comparison: After the Phrase-Delays are addressed, the eight stages begin to look more alike, although they come from vastly different points in history. The time spans between each were:

Oral Revelation in Eden	≥ 4000 BC		no written text yet
Script Revelation Outline on Mt. Sinai	1440 BC	2550 years	Author abstract of Eden
LXX Translation at Alexandria	250 BC	1200 years
Dead Sea Scrolls	150 BC	100 years
Masoretic Text — KJV, CDV	1000 AD	1150 years

This gives an exemplary quality to the work of the Masoretes. The Masoretic search was thorough. It puts a fresh emphasis on Genesis 1 being great literature.

- Six obviously represent the earliest Torah: 3, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11. (lost before the Greek LXXP)
- One is merely delayed in the Masoretic but is OK in the LXXP: 1— (lost after the Greek LXXP)
- Four are lost from the Masoretic but are OK in the LXXP: 2, 4, 5, 6. (delayed after the Greek LXXP)

Quoting William Whiston, in his fifth edition of 1537, with bolding added, and using today's spelling :

Whiston, William 1696 to 1737, five Editions, A New Theory of the Earth . This is a treatise on the possible affects of a comet crash on the earth changing its rate of rotation, early on, before Genesis 1:3. The first 94 pages of each of his five edition is a treatment: Of the Mosaick Creation . Whiston was an Anglican Priest, he was on the staff of Cambridge in the Department of Mathematics, under Isaac Newton, he succeeded Isaac Newton in the Lucasian chair of Mathematics. His book is available in photo-copy.

First: page 4, " The very first Words of Moses plainly imply, That the Production of all the World out of Nothing . . . was predecadaneous [antecedent] to the Six Days Works, . . . a Preface or Introduction to the following account, . . ."

Second: page 13, " . . . because 'tis certain, that neither the Light, by whose Revolution Night and Day are distinguished; nor the Sun, Moon, and Stars, which are set in that Firmament of Heaven of which Moses speaks, belong to our Atmosphere" [Whiston differentiates between the remote context of the Sun-Moon-Stars, and the context of a mist-darkness here on the surface of the deep. That is clear and just fine. The sun-light was totally blocked by the mist occlusion: in Job 38:9, "when I made the cloud the garment thereof, and thick darkness a swaddling band for it . . ." as per R. E. D. Clark Victoria Institute, London. Thus of "darkness," there are two different in the text which conventionally uses the same word for both : a mist-darkness occlusion for all 24 hours, and the night-darkness for 12 hours.]

Third: pages 14 - 15, " . . . the Creation of Light on the first Day, is not at all asserted in the History; but only that then it first appeared in the World: . . . And accordingly . . . St. Paul, . . . expresses it exceedingly properly, when he says, that God at this Time commanded the light to shine out of darkness. . . this can be no Difficulty in the present Case. The Creation therefore of the Heavenly Bodies, is the sole remaining difficulty in the case before us. . . ." [S – M – S are not to have been created at 1:16]

Fourth: page 15 , " And that would not be so hard, if the translation of the words of Moses [1:16] were but amended, . . . thus: . . . And God had (before) made two great lights, the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night; and had (before) made the stars also. . . [today, it appears cloud-cover eventually parted at 1:16 to reveal blue sky and S – M – S] . . . 'tis only changing the past tense for the pluperfect , and every thing is clear and easy, . . ."

Fifth: page 16, " Now to prove this a fair and just Interpretation, . . . 'tis only necessary to observe that the Hebrew tongue having no pluperfect, must, express the sense of it by the past tense, and that accordingly, the particular Circumstances of each Place must alone determine when thereby the Time present, and when that already past and gone, is to be understood ."

Wow! William Whiston, you left the next statement to posterity. And practically nobody has followed suit. So here goes — " Since we are familiar with the 'verbless clause-of-being,' which in 1611 was in Italics supplied with the verb-of-being ; we are set to do the same with the pluperfect ! Today, 'when expressing action completed before a specified past time,' the pluperfect is to be inserted , in Italics identical to the practice with the 'verbless-clause-of-being.' "

1— Whiston discovered gold, at 1:16. "God had (before) made two great lights, . . . he had (before) made the stars also."

However, Wiston's peers found themselves unable to accommodate the pluperfect, undoubtedly due to confusion about creation.

2— Then, 1:4a is identical to 1:16. " God had (before) divided the light from the darkness. "

3— Then 1:1 is found to be ". . . had God created the heavens and the earth." done independently in 1847 by James G. Murphy of Belfast: " We have no intimation of the interval of time that elapsed between the beginning of things narrated in this prefatory sentence, and that state of things which is announced in the following verse. . . . This verse forms an integral part of the narrative, and not a mere heading as some have imagined. . . . The very next sentence speaks of the earth already in existence, and therefore its creation must be recorded in the first verse. . . . If the first verse belongs to the narrative, order pervades the whole recital." Whiston has already 1737 mentioned on page 5, in connection with 1:1 "When God had (formerly) created the World . . ."

4— Continuing the vein, 1:2a calls for ". . . the earth had become without form and void."

And 1:2b " . . . darkness had come upon the face of the deep."

5— At this point it is obvious from the prior Pattern Charts, that all eight of the creation stages at their "recapitulation-introduction" are to be understood as in the pluperfect — nothing is created there. So there are six more besides 1:16, and 1:4a, to be added.

6— At 2:2-3 — add three more.

On our watch, only one translation shows a new pluperfect — in 1:16. Alexander Marlowe 1938, "The Book of Beginning ."

It is the glory of God to spare detail for later — to experience later clues is noble.

When a piece of $(2 + 2 = 4)$ logic is missing — put it back !

Whiston and Newton have both missed the math of John 1:2; and so all of us today —

William Tyndale must have thought "to the Word" was not absolutely necessary ?

Tyndale would change his mind after the RSV 1952, began the era of "He was . . . with God."

"I and the Father are One." John 10:30

(During Incarnation, he does MODEL for us.)
