Some ~~people~~ cases it will be, but the chances are that it's something that we've been struggling with for several years and that there are other aspects to it which you are not familiar with, and reasons why it's pretty hard to improve along that particular line; and we are trying to improve along this line and that line and the other line and constantly looking to the Lord to help us to go forward by faith. We still are, as we started, dependent entirely on Him. Our support comes in largely ~~through~~ from people who give a dollar a month to carry on the work.
