

strength and when the courses have ended have breathed a sigh of relief, thrown carefully ~~(via Mr. Koontz)~~ my notes into a file, marked the examinations and turned in the marks and then rushed to begin to prepare a new set of lectures or a new section of study.
These insights have opened the doors into many areas which I believe the Lord desires to have available for His people, and then I have been unable to enter the door because I have had to rush on to open other doors.

Carefully

During the last ten years I have spent ~~xxx~~ much time as I could find in working through the prophecies of Daniel. God has shown me new proofs ~~new~~ evidence for many interpretations, ~~that are widely believed,~~ <sup>popular</sup> ~~but~~ I have also seen that many widely ~~believed~~ <sup>accepted</sup> ideas rest upon no solid foundation. I believe He has given me a considerable number of fresh insights into the meaning ~~of~~ ~~part~~ portions of this <sup>whole</sup> material. I have been spending every spare moment that I could find apart from the other labors to which I was committed to trying to work through these matters and feel that that task is now ~~nine-tenths~~ nine-tenths completed. Just within the last month I have gained a number of new insights ~~in~~ into sections of Daniel 9 that are widely and bitterly argued, often through lack of having observed certain essential features in the linguistic situation. Since my formal retirement on October ~~14~~ 15 I have given as much time as possible to endeavoring to complete this task.

Unfortunately <sup>for special purposes such of</sup> there have been a considerable number of calls, including the ~~amount of teaching that I still did to the end of the semester, and each of~~ <sup>what</sup> ~~(several considerably)~~ these has pushed me back in this work considerably. I just get to the point where something is ready ~~to~~ to be expressed in proper fashion and then have ~~to~~ had to leave it for a meeting, a task, or a class to teach, and then it takes <sup>an hour or two</sup> a couple of hours of hard work to get back to ~~the point~~ point at which <sup>ed</sup> that I had reach when ~~i~~ had to leave it. <sup>the work was interrupted</sup>

I am convinced tht completion of this work on the prophecies of Daniel and going over the many notes as many as ~~possible~~ possible of the notes I have had on areas I have investigated, and putting them into proper shape,
