

didn't want to lose anything of Hebrew of them so he put them together without realizing what gave us a contradiction. You find it at the end of chapter 27 where you read that Esau hated Jacob because of the blessing wherewith his father blessed him, and Esau said in his heart, "The days of mourning for my father are at hand; then will I slay my brother Jacob." Now Esau said this in his heart, and these words of Esau her elder son were told Rebekkah. Who could tell me exactly what Esau said in his heart. It is clear that there is something in the narrative here that is told. Esau said these in his heart, and then he went on to say them in front of his friends, and one of them came and told Rebekkah. That is an inference which is absolutely safe, because Rebekkah had no power of telling what was ~~going on~~ ~~in~~ ~~the~~ ~~heart~~ in the heart, as the Lord does. But these words were told to Rebekkah, and it doesn't say they were told by the Lord. I'm sure that some friends say, and she ~~said~~ sent, and called Jacob her younger son, she said, Behold, thy brother Esau, as touching thee, doth comfort himself, purposing to kill thee. Now therefore, my son, obey my voice; and arise, flee thou to Laban my brother to Haran and stay with him a few days, until my brother's fury turn away. / Until thy brother's anger turn away from thee, and he forget that which thou hast done to him. Then I will send, and fetch thee from thence. Why should I be deprived also of you both in one day?" She tells Jacob, well, I am to

and make a visit and stay with your uncle Laban a few days, and then when you come back, ~~your~~ ~~brother~~ ~~Esau~~ will be cooled off, he always cools off. He is just angry, but he will get over, it. You just keep out of his way. He's been so angry before that he has wanted to kill you, but he has never been ^{this} angry before. You just keep out of his way until he's all right. But he's pretty hot this time. Go up there and stay awhile and he'll be all right. Well, that is what the critics say one document says. And now the other document has the next verse.

And Rebekkah said to Isaac, I am weary of my life because of the daughters of Heth. If Jacob takes a wife of the daughters of Heth, such as these which are of the daughters of the land, what good shall my life do me? She said, Esau has got two wives here, these Canaanites and I get awfully tired of having them around. Now she said, if Jacob would marry some of these people around here, it would be terrible. And Isaac called Jacob, and blessed him and charged him, and said to him, thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of Canaan. Arise, go to Padan-Aram to the house of Bethuel thy mother's father; and take thee a wife from thence ~~of~~ the daughters of Laban, thy mother's brother." And Isaac's ^{sent away} ~~brother~~ ~~Esau~~ Jacob, and he
