

things he criticized them for in ~~xxxx~~ these four chapters, and then read the things he criticized them for in the next few chapters. Was he a hypocrite? Was Paul saying things he didn't mean when he said, I thank my God always in your behalf? What kind of a hypocrite was Paul to thank God for such people as these...10.... Paul was not a hypocrite. Paul knew that these Corinthians were sinful, human beings, as we all are, but he knew that they were ~~xx~~ people who would be saved through the Lord Jesus Christ, and he knew that as God's apostle it was necessary that he put his finger on their faults and show them how they could improve them, but he loved them in the Lord. Everyone of the, he not only loved them, but he thanked God for them, for the grace of God which was working in them. "I think my God always on your behalf...that in everything you are enriched by him, in all utterance and in all knowledge." Well, how are they enriched by him in all utterance, in all knowledge? And then they go ahead and quote things from him he doesn't like, and things they do he doesn't like, and criticizes them. They are not made perfect by Jesus in all utterance and all knowledge. They are not sanctified by him in all utterance and in all knowledge. They are not yet glorified by him, but they are enriched by Him, because anyone who has believed in the Lord Jesus Christ, and born again through His precious blood has the Holy Spirit working in him, enriching him, and improving him, and helping him in all utterance, and in all knowledge. Oh, let us be conscious of that, and let us look to him, and let us not grieve the spirit. But let us recognize that it is11 $\frac{1}{2}$

And if we disagree with the other Christian on some things, let's look to God for help with it, and not forget that he belongs to Christ, and is enriched by him, in all utterance, and in all knowledge, even as the testimony of Christ...11 3/4..."so that you come behind in no gift; waiting for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ." How appropriate....12... These Corinthians, and all true Christians should be waiting for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and see the stress on that, waiting for, hastening unto the return of our Lord Jesus Christ. Be ye ready, for ye know not the day
