

little flaws, and looking at those who are his servants, and treating them as if ~~if~~ they were our servants, but determin~~ed~~ed to look within ourselves, and see the sin, and then to bring ~~it~~ it to the foot of the cross. The wages of sin is death, and no one can escape. It is inevitable. It is there. The deadliness is upon it. Even if we are saved, the deadliness is (i)within our nature, but thank God for the gift of God of eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. Let us pray.....
