

let the Holy Spirit search our hearts, and ~~let Him~~ see there the groaning s that cannot be uttered, and let Him see our selfish motivws and attitudes, that are perhaps not even understood by ~~ourselves~~. Let them be brought to our attention that we may turn from it, and ~~that we may turn from our desire to be thought of~~ for personal praise, personal glory, ~~our~~ desire to be thought of well, our desire to have good things <sup>of</sup> ~~in~~ life, for our desire to give them up in order to that people may think well of thee, that we may seek the Lord's will whatever it is.
Oh, Lord, our God, we ask for wisdom. Give to us wisdom, and help us not to be unstable, but move forward, attaining the sanctification that is your desire for each one of us, and grow up into the image of the Lord and the time will come when we will be like him, ~~and we will~~ for we will see him as He is. Oh, our Father, lead us, we pray, and help us that if the Lord tarries, our lives may accomplish much for thee. We ask in Jesus' name. Amen.
