

Evolution as the term is often used , that ~~is~~ all life has developed from one simple beginning. How are you going to prove that. You wouldn't have one missing link, you would have a million missing links ~~x~~ to investigate and prove. If you are going to show that all ~~o~~life is from one simple beginning. It would be a thing that would ~~x~~ take a thousand years of a thousand scientists to get proof enough to prove an idea like that. That's a philosophical idea, that's not a ~~p~~ thing that could be proven scientifically, it ~~so~~ would take too long. the investigation of too many things to prove that all life has developed from one thing to another. Of course , if there's no ~~k~~ God. If everything comes by simple processes, that's the simple way to think of it. But you have no proof that there's no god, and no proof that everything has come by natural processes, there is descent with variation, but has everything descended from one simple beginning, purely a matter of ~~fact~~-faith, or are ~~we~~ we ~~x~~ to believe what the Bible says that God created Adam out of the dust of the earth, that is, he ~~took~~ took in organic matter, and he formed a man out of it, and then he breathed life into this man, and he became living. He was not living before he was man. And somebody decided that they ~~x~~ are simply putting up a tree there, putting up an imaginary thing ~~that~~- of which there is absolutely no proof and couldn't be proven in the nature of the thing, Now, if you could spend hours and hours ~~x~~ arguing evolution, it would be silly. Direct them to Christ, show them their need of a Saviour, but learn to remove some of these trees that get in the way. And if we Christians would simply take this and see the evidence and the facts that the Bible is ~~tru~~-true. Take the two that I gave last night, two that I never heard of , during the last four months. I knew of many ~~others~~-others of
