

no divine command requiring their acceptance in faith, true Christianity has withered away. ~~in~~ We live in days when people have turned from the truth; they have turned from the Gospel; they are turning away from God. And God wants us to turn our fire against the deniers of the Word of God. He wants us to go ~~to~~ and use every means and work out new means to reach those that do not know Christ; and to work out means of teaching and instructing those that know Him how they shall grow in grace and <sup>in</sup> the knowledge of the Lord. But those who truly believe in Christ He wants us to recognize as Christian brothers, to <sup>stand</sup> ~~stand~~ beside them, to give them hope and comfort if they welcome it from us, and if they do not welcome it from us, not to speak ~~to~~ slurringly or critically of them or to ~~run~~ run them down, but instead to seek for opportunities of helping them and leading them into the blessing that God had for them.

I'd like in closing to sing a couple of verses of "Let Jesus Come Into Your Heart" - 1st, 2nd and last stanzas.
