

we can do we should certainly do (?) . Show as much promise of having an effect. But the important thing for us is to know that ~~God~~ God can change the whole thing. God can remove that menace and entirely change it, and give us again the prospects for the future like we've had in the past, if He chooses to do so. But if God chooses not to do so, and from all human outlook (not clear) that would seem most likely now, then the important thing for us to do is to be training ourselves in the Word of God so that no matter what happens, we can keep ~~our~~ keep our eyes on the Lord and be true to Him and know He is still guiding us, no matter what happens. get(?) And we can give the Word of God to as many others as we can, lead as many as we can into the knowledge of Christ, and help Chns* to feed on the Word of God and to grow in grace and to be ready, so that if they were to have to suffer torture and misery like this man from Romania who spoke to us in our chapel about three years ago described the tortures he went through there for his faith, in Romania, and he stood true. His Bible was taken away from him, but he had much of it in his mind, and he went over the passages and he praised the Lord, and he was able to make a great witness despite all obstacles. But whatever is ahead, it is wonderful to know that this God is our guide forever and ever. He will be our guide even unto death, no matter what happens. If we truly love the Lord, and truly follow Him, that He is leading. In Psalm 37:23 we read that the steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord and he ~~delighteth~~ delighteth in his way. We can know that the Lord is ~~is~~ ready to lead even at the small steps of the way, that if we truly believe on Him, there is the pillar of cloud which is guiding and leading us in our lives. In Proverbs 20:24 we have another assurance of the fact that the pillar of cloud is with us "Man's goings are of the LORD." And then we have an interesting note
