

help it. But I think it is a warning to us we all need to heed. Yes, don't be lazy, be busy. But what are you busy at? Are you busy at the Lord's work? Are you finding other things easier. A man said to me -- he was pastor of a big church, he said, I had some fellows working for me there, I had quite a staff. He said they were supposed to go out and call. And he said, we got some results. But he said, I decided with the workers we had, we ought to get more results, so I said to them, Every person you talk to that comes to the service, we'll give you an extra dollar., at the end of it. If the person you talk to comes to the service, comes not only to the morning service, but also comes to prayer meeting or something else, you'll have 5 dollars in your pay envelope. Well, he said, the way those fellows worked was really amazing, and his church grew! But if we are in the Lord's service, should we not work just as hard to please Him as to get a little extra money? As thy servant was busy here and there he was gone. There are many who have the sad experience in life. They get turned aside.

I heard of a man the other way who had planned to go into the ministry. He was going to go into it and then he found it hard to study Hebrew. After two and a half years he had gone down; he had forgotten quite a bit of his Hebrew. But he was always planning to come back. But for some years he was going to come back but he never got to it. Then his family began to grow. And it was hard to finance them. But he struggled along, and he was always planning to come back. He was going to come back. He got into a church, and was active in it. He taught a SS class. He taught an adult class of quite a sized group of people and people liked his message. He == The question was how is he going to support his family? He was working awfully hard to do it, but on Sunday he was giving good messages. Then a man in the church was called to a very good position where he needed someone under him who he knew was honest and trust. He said to this man, Come and I'll give you a salary here == 50% more than any of us get! The man said, No.
