

of social abilities, of various qualities, we deserve no credit for them. What have we but what we have received? But O how shameful when we neglect to use to the utmost for your glory what you have given us. And Oh our Father some of us have situations in which we seem to have great success, and some have situations in which we seem to have grt. disappointments. But Oh our Fathers you have a purpose for us whatever the situation. You have a purpose for us in doing your work in the world, and you have a purpose for us in the development of our spirits in line with your desires for them. O our Gdd help us to keep our eyes upon our Saviour; help us if we have believed in Christ and he is living in us to show forth His goodness, and to show forth His grace as you desire us to. Help us in all things to rejoice and to know that your will is best. We ask in Jesus' Name. Amen.
