

scattereth. If only our leaders in our denominations, in our colleges, in our seminaries, had realized that and kept these men, kept them from getting a foothold, we would be in an entirely different situation than we are today.

I remember Princeton Seminary when I was there was teaching the Word of God, standing true. Today you find utterly different teaching there. But I read something about the history of Princeton Seminary when I was there, and I found that sometime before I went they had invited a man to come and be Professor of NT who was a graduate of the seminary a good many years before, and was quite noted in the NT field. This man wrote back and said, I would not think of teaching in an old moss-back institution like yours with these out of date ideas that you have." Well, the thing that impressed me was not how that man had changed, but the fact that the directors of that institution did not investigate more fully before they invited him to become professor in that institution. That, of course, is what happened over and over again. God wants us to show true Christian love to all who name the name of Christ. God wants us to be open eyed and watching situations in order not to allow Satan to get into that which has formerly been true to the Word of God.

Now this whole subject will be discussed/more at length by Mr. ^{much} Grawley in his course in Modern Religious Problems next semester. When we are together, all of His people who truly believe the Word of God, it is easy to forget these situations. But as we go out into the world God wants us to be aware of this, He ~~ants~~ wants us to see developments and He wants us to see how we can make our influence count for the Lord in every action. Let us pray:
