

Christ's time to the 10th A.D. and think of all the changes and errors that can come in and there God blessed us in causing that in the last few years the Dead Sea SXrolls be discovered, and there the complete scroll of the book of Isaiah and many ~~XXXXXXXX~~ portions of just about every ~~but just about~~ every other OT book - many of them very small but some of them fairly large - but comparing these which are recognized now as having been written about the time of Christ or before, comparing them we find that though ~~some~~ every single MS in the Dead Sea Scrolls has come little crazy mistake, every one of any length as is found to be in anybody who copies anything of any length, yet that there is no important change between the Dead Sea Scrolls and the copies we have from the 10th century A.D. The care that those Jewish scribes took in copying that OT is absolutely phenomonal. That does not mean we have the Hebrew text exactly as it came from the hands of the original writers. It does not mean that. God has permitted a certain number of errors to come in. There are a few very obvious errors that have come in. (That clock is moving awfully fast. There is ground I would like to cover now.) I had two I wanted to mention and read with you. Let me just without calling attention to the place, just briefly mention very quickly that there is a place in 1 ~~KXX~~Chron. 6 where it says that a son of Samuel, the first-born Vashni and Abia, and then you read on seven or eight verses later and you find a mention of Samuel's son Joel who was not mentioned in this list first. Then you look at 1 Sam. 13:1 and you find that the sons of Samuel were ~~Joel~~ Joel and Abia. This word Vashni, which is in the KJV there, actually could be taken as waw vashini = "and the second", and it is perfectly obvious and
