

Some of us have great physical ability, and some are very languid in physical strength. Some have very attractive personalities and others do not. God has predestinated all of this. There are tremendous differences among people, and they are part of the will of God. The mysterious will of God.

Friends fail. We take our friends the best we can. We ^{pick} are attracted to certain people. Sometimes we will go for years ~~and~~ inclose relations with a friend and then he will fail us and turn against us. These things happen, and the Lord knows about them. We will give our lives to building an institution and then somebody will get control of the institution and turn it ~~s~~ away from the ^{knew} purpose that we spent our years building up. God knows about this in His plan. In the last few years, missionaries have gone into Vietnam and have led thousands of souls to the Lord, and there has been a tremendous increase in the knowledge of Christ in that ~~ma~~ land. Many have come to know Him there, and now they, most of them have been taken over by a force that desires to ~~XXXXXX~~ destroy every vestige of Christianity, and will either kill, or torture, or ~~XXXX~~ ^{send} them to slave camps. God knew about this before the foundation of ~~■~~ the world. We who believe are predestinated according to the purpose of Him who worketh all things after the counsel of His will, and yet the Scripture says that Jesus said: Whosoever comes to me I will in no wise cast out. God gave His ~~son~~ that whosoever believes on Him might have eternal life. Both are true. Both are taught in Scripture. How do they fit together? We do not know, but God knows entirely. It is part of His marvellous plan and marvellous will.

There are many mysteries in life, or I mean in Scripture. There is one ~~■~~ I would be tempted to take 20 minutes to go into because it is a very interesting thing, but I don't take more than a minute or
