

that way have no confidence in any politician. Yet if the government does it, it's the politicians who will do it, or the friends of the politicians. It's utter nonsense. But it is the widespread idea. The Christian is not here to attempt to build a perfect world. Though it is his duty to do what good he can along the way.

Now most important many details of God's plan are quite unknown ~~to us~~ to us. You have a part in His work and He wants you to have an important part in His work, but what part is most important you do not know.

I was much impressed with visiting a family up in Northern Penna. a few years ago. I found that there was here was a very very godly family. Three fine boys were brought up whose lives have counted much for the Lord in the years since. And I asked, How did you get interested in the Lord's work? How did you come to do the work you are doing? And I found that 20 or 30 years earlier there had been a minister in a church there who was there for a year and a half, and he tried to present the Word of God and ~~XXXXX~~ the people weren't much interested. He organized a group of young people, and he taught them every week. And the group varried, sometimes a little bigger, sometimes a little smaller, and he did not seem to accomplish much. And after a year and a half there the minister left and took a call out in the middlewest some~~where~~ where. And he has been laboring I believe for 30 yrs. out in the middlewest, and probably as he looks back in his career he will say the Lord enabled me to do this work here and this work here, but that first pastorate of mine back in that little town of PA., I don't == I did not accomplish anything! He probably does not even know that in his work there a young man and young woman came to that Bible
