

God is in the beginning of the world, of the universe. We see him in nature. We see him in the marvellous things of creation. God is in the beginning of the Bible and to know God we must study His Word and see the wonderful things it presents about Him. But God should be in the beginning of our lives. He elects us as those who would receive this blessing of knowing Christ personally x yes, but to lead us, to bring us to the point we are in now, and to be with us at each point in our lives he desires that we should worship him in all that we do and that he should be in the beginning of the life of each of us.

Let us pray: God our Father we thank thee that you our God are supreme. We thank you that you control all things. We thank you that you have led in our lives in such a way as to bring us to this point. We thank you that having laid your hand upon us we know that you will never let us go. We know that we can be absolutely sure that you are leading us beyond toward the promised land. And along the way it is your desire that we should enjoy the the good things of this world. It is your joy that we should derive proper pleasure from the many good things you have made. But it is your desire above all that we should be such as the Father is seeking to worship him, that we should worship our God, not merely on Sunday, not merely in chapel, but all through our lives, that we should be aware of his presence and bowing before him in adoration and praise. Be with us each one and lead that our lives may truly be in line with your purposes. We ask in Jesus' Name. Amen.
