

organization for study of biblical studies. He was in an ~~organia~~ organization which dealt with Archaeology and Oriental subject, and not specifically religious at all. But he said I belong to an organization in the Chicago area that has most of the theological professors in Biblical ~~suca~~ subjects in this area as members of it. And he said, You know, when we get together and they give ~~an~~ papers they and/we discuss things, he said, those men don't believe anything in the Bible, hardly is true ~~ABGO~~ and ~~xx~~ everyone of them have taken oaths that ~~they~~ they will enforce ~~these~~ these doctrines. I don't believe anymore than they do, but at least I'm honest. I couldn't help looking at him and saying, If your ~~the~~ job depended on it, and your salary depended on it, I don't know whether you would be any more honest than they are or not. When I was there at the Un. of ~~Chrio~~ Chicago, I was ~~getting~~ ^{giving} a course at Faith Seminary in the book of Proverbs, ^{the following semester!} And so I went ~~af~~ over to the Divinity School and I bought a book from their library on Proverbs. I was working on Archaeology, and I would go over there and get a book ~~of~~ on Proverbs and study it, ~~and~~ in my evenings and then I would go and get another one, and I saw a sign one day which ~~sai~~ said the Divinity School library will be closed ^{for a certain} /for the day. Books that are taken out ~~if~~ before that can be turned in through the library, and I thought I would like ~~ix~~ to use a lot more of these books, and I ~~went~~ went into the stacks and came out ~~wih-~~ with about 20 books on Proverbs, and said to the librarian there are about 20 books that I would like to use and you are going to be closed tomorrow, and she looked at me rather skeptically, ~~not~~ knowing who I was at all. I said there is a member of your ~~fac-~~ faculty here that ~~h~~ knows me and I think that he would ~~h~~ vouch for them, a man who had been a teacher in the college I attended, now a teacher in the Divinity School there, and she said Bring him in, so I went down and found the man just coming out of his lab class, and told him what I wanted, and he came upstairs and ~~stepped-into-~~ stepped into the librarian's office, and he looked at him and turned to me, and he said, Dr. MacRae was a member of my class in college for four years, but he is still a fundamentalist, but ~~he~~ he's honest inspite of his orthodoxy. ~~h~~ And he turned and walked out. And the
