

any real foundation. I've found that going to the Greek and Hebrew and trying to see how the words were used, and comparing the verses with other verses and seeing what's there. There is far more truth comes out than by reading what this person thought and what that person thought and the other person thought. Human wisdom is not what the world needs.

The ~~wor~~ world needs the wisdom from above. The wisdom we receive from getting into the Word and studying it with the help of the Holy Spirit and ~~an~~ learning what God wants us to learn.

O the world needs the wisdom that is described in Prov. 8. The wisdom that God used in creating the world. The wisdom of all of God's wonderful plan. The wisdom that he wants us to ~~q~~ acquire in order that our lives may accomplish what he wants them to accomplish. Shall we pray?

Our Father, we thank you for the value of true scholarship. We thank you for the importance of learning to interpret your word. But O our God we pray that you will keep ~~us~~ us from any reason:: from personal advantage, from fame, from any other reason in wasting our time in false scholarship, in studying matters that do not accomplish anything. In studying some of the millions of facts that are merely facts and nothing more. But help us to learn those facts that are vital for the skills we need, those facts that are vital above all for the understanding of your revelation, and help us to make our efforts count for your purposes. We ask in Jesus' Name. Amen.
