

and compel everyone to do what they are told or be deprived of food, to be put into a mental hospital, to be sent into camps where they work on starvation wages and many die there. That is the situation but nothing was said about this in this article. It told about how pleasant the people were, how hard they had to worked through the day. There was nothing the Russian government might have objected to except one brief statement.

In that brief statement it was mentioned that these people worked long hours in the day, but they were allowed to have a small plot of land where they could grow things themselves. Of that land of Russia the figures were something like this--there was about 80% controlled by the government and the people worked under orders. The other 20% was individual little plots where the people worked --the people who worked for the government were allowed to till and develop and sell the crops! The statement was made that these small plots, what was produced in them produced over a third of the food that was produced in Russia.

I know there are those who say the communist form of govt. is very inefficient. Inevitably it is. It is just going to fall of its own weight! Maybe it would if we just did not give them the food to eat which we do make available for them, year after year. If they did not get material from other nations. But just realizing that eventhough the economy as a whole is in bad shape you have these autocrats who have control of it and who hate Christianity more than most anything in the world, and who mistreat the Christians in their country most terribly.

They are not allowed to even use the name of Christ to their children and if it is proven they do the children are taken away from them and put into a school where they can be indoctrinated in atheism. But when you have absolute control of the organization it is easy to take out of it some of the most efficient, some of the most able people and put them in charge of the activity of building armaments, of making plans for armaments, of developing their system so as to conquer the world.

Lenin said we are going to hang all the communists (?) (must mean Christians), and somebody says, How can you do that? Where can you get that much rope? He said, Oh the Capitalists will sell us the rope! Of course that is just what is being done. But the objective remains exactly the same. The objective is world conquest, and what they are doing now in Afghanistan and what they are constantly preparing for spending 2 or 3 times as large a proportion of their money and production on arms as we have for the past 10 years, their object is world conquest.

Now this statement is made, if you vote for this party, if you let Jerry Falwell have what he wants, there will be no nuclear freeze that can be verified. No verifiable nuclear freeze! Well, soon after the Russians got atomic weapons, our govt. invited them to make an agreement whereby there would be no increase in nuclear weapons and that each nation would have the right to
