

concerned. I said, "Is something wrong with Roach?" I hope nobody has offended him in any way. That is not our policy."

They said, "We don't know of anything." Well, that was on Tuesday night at our controversial meeting. Thursday Roach came to see me. He said, "You remember my answer to you so shortly on Tuesday."

"Yes, Roach, I was afraid somebody had offended you and I hope that we haven't said anything that hurt your feelings or anything like that. You know you and I have had many a rattle, but I would be very ~~gladly~~ sorry to say anything rude."

"Oh, no," he said, "It wasn't anything like that. Get that out of your mind. I had a most extraordinary thing happen to me. I came into that meeting and I was going to speak as usual. I got a most overpowering sense of sin. I was bowed down with the sense of my iniquity. You know when you spoke to me going out I was nearly bursting into tears. You know that would never do for and Father 3-3<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub>. I hurried away and I went home that night and I lay in my bed and I tossed from side to side and I couldn't get rid of the sense of sin. I got up in the morning and I knelt ~~xxxx~~ down by my bedside and I said, 'Oh, Christ, if you can save me, save me.' You know, I got the peace of God in my soul."

Now that is a great many years ago and Roach had very sad time because he never convinced his wife. I don't wonder. You see, the way that she looked at it. A good sensible lady was 3-4. He was a Catholic once and he went off and became an atheist or something or a communist. Now he turned and became a Protestant, and God only knows what he will be next week." She said that to me herself so I'm not misrepresenting here. I used to say to her, "Well, you know Roach ~~is~~ has got a change of heart now."

She would say, "I will say that ~~xxxx~~ he was always a decent man to me, but he is now more than ever he was." Although there was no split in the
