

has done in one sphere is bound to tally what He does in another sphere. It is easy for us to draw wrong conclusions from the data of science or from the data of the Scripture. The facts of the two, however, are bound to agree, since God is the author of both.