

infinitesimal. Thus we have a solid revelation from God on which to build up our understanding of the truths that he wants us to know. And we are safe-guarded and helped in our understanding of the precise truth ~~we~~ he wants us to have by the very fact that there is a certain possibility of error on particular statements. If we study the textual variations very carefully, and do not build arguments upon individual isolated verses, we can be extremely close to getting the precise thought that God wishes us to have.

The interpretation of any document has its complexities, decision as to the precise meaning of what God wants us to have in the field of theology, sometimes involves real problems. However the great teaching of Scripture are made so extremely clear that there is no reason in the world why any honest man should question that they are taught in the Word of God. It is a solid basis for propositional truth on these matters. When we get into further details we are always in the...

d.5 (b/4)

...how western nations secure their power from the consent of the governed. The citizens, if dissatisfied the citizens can change them at will, and their officers have to go back to the citizens at regular intervals for the right to continue in power. In communist nations in sharp contrast to this the officers are established by a small minority of the people and the individual citizen has no voice in their establishment or continuance. In fact, it is extremely unlikely, in any communist country that as many as 20% of the people would vote for continuance of the officers in power. If they were given an opportunity for free discussion without fear of retaliation and for free and secret vote upon the matter. The Communist ideology, which has resulted in the seizure by small groups of control of the government of Russia, China, and many other countries, is one which is not satisfied with control of any portion of the world, but has declared its fixed intention of conquering, of establishing itself throughout the whole globe. It is its announced purpose to become