

saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem." It was a hard promise to believe in the days of Isaiah, and it is a hard one to believe today. However, we know that the word of God is sure, and that its fulfilment is certain. Were there no other passages in the Scripture dealing with the Millennium, this one alone should be sufficient to prove to us that God has promised it, and that He will surely bring it to pass.