

without hand. It doesn't say anything about the end of the age. Nothing about a kingdom being taken over by ...13½..., nothing about a complete end of the powers of iniquity, nothing like that whatever in ch.8. Yes?.....AAM: In ch.8, v.17, "So he came near where I stood, and when he came I ~~xx~~ was afraid and fell upon my face, but he said/ unto me, Understand, O son of man, for at the time of the end is the vision." Well, now, how many of you have ~~yet~~ read ch.8 in the Hebrew?.....end of D 27

D 28

.....end, as here in 8:17, mean a specific point, or ~~area~~? Is there a period of years? Perhaps a week, 2 weeks, 10 weeks, 10 years, perhaps a century, but is there a specific period which is a time of the end, and whenever you say anything belongs to the time of the end, that is when it belongs, this pointing/ that. How would you find an ~~answer~~ to that question?AAM: What I am trying to bring out is, here Mr. Harding wants to know, what does this mean when he says to Daniel, Understand, O son of man, for at the time of end is the vision." Now suppose I say, Understand, ~~Because~~ this relates to the millennium. If I said that in 400 A.D., I would not be talking about anything that happened in 500, or 600, or 1000, or 1500, or ~~even~~ 1900. Whether I would be talking about something that happened in 1956, or 1966, or 1976, or in 2676, you would not know but you would now know that I wasn't talking about anything that happened in 1954, because the millennium was not then. The ~~nt~~ word millen/inium, as we see, it, relates to a specific time which has not yet ~~xxxxx~~ come. Now, when we say a time of end, are we indicateng a period, a specific period to which this phrase will always point, and whenever I say this, you are talking about the time of the end, it is that which....2½....., we want to ~~xxxxxx~~ ask the same question about the phrase, "the last days," only we don't want to ask that in this class, because I don't think that comes in in Daniel at all. That comes in in Prophets. Student:.....AAM: The only thing is, how would you make sense out of the sentence? Mr. Abernathy, read us the last half of the verse again.....3½..... She says, Consider ~~the~~ O son of man, for this is for the time of the end of ^{the vision} ... now that would not be an impossible thing ...4...(discussion about use of maqeph)
