

- d. Though man has a duty to strive for sanctification, the process is one which is initiated by the Lord and carried on by the Triune God, and the completion of which is assured by Him to everyone who has been justified through the grace of Christ. Page 250.
- (a). We could make no progress, in sanctification, if God had not first regenerated us. Page 250.
- (2). Sanctification is said to be a work of God of Christ and of the Holy Spirit. Page 250.
- (3). God has decreed that the sanctification of everyone who believes in Jesus Christ will be carried to completion. Page 251.
- 5. Sanctification, like justification, is secured by the death of Christ on the cross. Page 252.
- 6. Sanctification is said to be accomplished through God's Truth. Page 257.
- a. The word is a mirror which shows us our sinful condition, and enables us to see our faults. Page 258.
- b. The Word is our only source for knowing what God's righteousness requires. Page 259.
- (1). God's righteousness requires cleansing from the sin described in the law. Page 259.
- (2). Improvement, not merely of external acts, but of internal motives. Page 261.
- (3). Freedom from anxiety and other manifestations of lack of trust in God. Page 262.
- (4). Active development of the fruits of the Spirit. Page 264.
- (5). The development of true love to God and man. Page 266.
- c. Through the Word, we learn how much God was willing to do to free us from our sin, so that our desire to be rid of sin, is increased by our contemplation of the life and death of Christ. Page 268.
- d. Through the Word, we learn the technique of sanctification, and thus the process can greatly be speeded up. Page 268.
- 7. Sanctification flows from our union with Christ. Page 270.
- 8. Sanctification requires that we learn to rest in the Lord, and to let him live in us, and through us. Page 273.
- E. Erroneous Views of Sanctification. Page 274.
- 1. Antinomianism. Page 274.
- 2. Perfectionism. Discussion of the arguments given for it. Page 277.
- a. The Bible commands believers to be holy. Page 278.
- b. Holiness and perfection are often ascribed to believers in Scripture. Page 279.
- c. There are said to be Biblical accounts of Saints who have led perfect lives. Page 280.
- d. The apostle John declared very explicitly, that those who are born of God, do not sin. Page 280.
- 3. Objections to the theory of Perfectionism. Page 283.
- a. The Bible very explicitly says, There is no one on earth who does not sin. Page 283.
- b. According to Scripture, there is a constant warfare between the flesh and the spirit in the lives of God's children. Page 283.
- c. Confession of sin, and prayer for forgiveness, are continually required. Page 283.
- d. Perfectionists themselves deem it necessary to lower the standard of the law, and to externalize the idea of sin. Page 283.
- e. There is a tendency in most such movements to overemphasize the human part in salvation. Page 287.