

gather information properly from the Bible in relation to these things. I have just recently been studying in Isa. where God speaks of His power ~~nk~~ over the heavens, His creative power, and I have been tremendously interested to note the many times that Isa. says that God says I have ~~sk~~ <sup>sketched out</sup> out the heavens, and He uses a Heb. word that He used ~~for~~ for His great power in bringing the people out of Egypt ~~and~~ and that fits with the ideas that the ~~astronomers~~ <sup>astronomers</sup> astronomers have been advancing in the last 20-30 years that the universe ~~is~~ is expanding and stretching out and you see God's mighty power here, now, I don't say that you couldn't have found that from the scriptures, but when we find it we find the reasonable of it ~~of~~ of all that there suggestion ~~that - and there is~~ another thing that has been proven at any time, that can be shown to be denied. ...over inspiration, and we each of us answered questions, and the other one would have a chance to discuss it and it was handled most courteously. Some would ask a question of one of us and the ~~other~~ other would discuss it, and I don't think there ~~was~~ was any interruption but ~~one~~ once. In that case I couldn't help ~~it~~. He says, the Old Testament describes a ~~flat~~ flatterer, and I couldn't ~~help~~ help it. I said, <sup>W</sup>here. He says, the ~~whole~~ <sup>W</sup> whole Old Testament. He says the book of Genesis, and I said, Where. He says the Book of Genesis. Well, he ~~said~~ said, there is the story of the flood, he said. When I got up to speak, I said, there is a story in Genesis about the flood ...it seems to fit much better with a round earth ~~is~~ than with a flat earth, but the idea is very widespread to fit our mistakes in science ~~is~~ but ask where and you don't find them. There are plenty of figurative expressions in the Bible, ~~yet~~ yes. We say that the sun rises in the morning. And ...the motion of the earth rather than the sun, but ~~west~~ still say the sun rises and there are figurative expressions like that. But any expression in the Bible that really deals with matters of science or history and
